This isn't the parenting book you might expect!

You don't need another book to tell you how to raise your kids. Mom, this book is all about you! God perfectly created you to be the mother of your children. Make no mistake, this is absolutely true. How can you know for sure? If God knew they would have been better off in someone else's family, He would have put them there.

So how can you become the godly mother your kids need? Spend a few minutes here and there throughout your week and work through some heart issues— with the help of these ten chapters and God's Word to lead and guide you.

You children need more than just teaching about God. Learn to look for Jesus, and then you can help them experience Him for themselves. You can't show someone something you cannot see yourself. HeartHope4Moms will help you see God more clearly and love Him more dearly, so you can point Him out to your kids and watch them begin to look for Him themselves.

Learn to see Jesus so you teach your children where to look!
